Re: Important Notice Regarding Your Healthcare Information

Dear Patient,

We are writing to inform you of a recent cybersecurity event involving one of our trusted healthcare vendors, Change Healthcare. On February 21, several services from Change Healthcare were taken offline in response. This is impacting claim submissions, prior authorizations, and provider payments nationally.

As your trusted partner in care, we wanted to let you know that, while there is no evidence your patient information has been misused, we take your privacy and security of your data very seriously. This letter is to notify you of this incident and let you know that we are staying abreast of all updates regarding this cybersecurity event. There is no indication that InnovaCare Health systems have been compromised.

Regardless, we encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud. Please review the information contained in the attached "Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information." Additionally, we recommend that you reach out to your health plan should you have any additional questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Teresa R.J. Jordan

Monitor Your Accounts

We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and

7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
